

The Upsetter movie (The Life and Music of Lee Scratch Perry)

Written by Administrator

There's a new reggae artist biopic coming to the big screen: The Upsetter: The Life and Music of Lee Scratch Perry. The reggae music documentary details the life and times of Lee "Scratch" Perry, one of the world's greatest dub reggae music producers. It was created by

Ethan Higbee

and

Adam Bhala Lough

, and features narration by

Benicio Del Toro

THE UPSETTER is not just for Reggae fans. It's a fascinating exploration of the music business, one of its most innovative periods and one of its unsung heroes.

The Upsetter movie (The Life and Music of Lee Scratch Perry)

Written by Administrator

Created over the course of 7 years, The Upsetter tells the tale of Lee Perry's life, through 70 years of ups and downs, in Scratch's own voice. The movie is the compilation of exclusive interviews that the reggae artist provided to American filmmakers Adam Bhalalough and Ethan Higbee in 2006 (when Perry was living in Switzerland). The documentart film mingles the story of Perry's creative life with 30 years of Jamaican music, including dub, reggae, and Rastafarian culture. It includes music tracks and archival footage selected from every stage of Lee Perry's life.

The movie includes an hour and a half of exclusive interviews, rare studio recordings, and live shows. Now 74 and still recording music and touring, Perry will be known for his Black Ark studio, for pioneering so many aspects of dub music, and for his eclectic creativity.

The Upsetter was an official selection at the Edinburgh International Film Festival, The SXSW Film Festival, The Athens International Festival, The Karlovy Vary International Film Festival, and the Melbourne International Festival.

{jcomments on}